Tiffany had a dilemma to consider. One week ago, she discovered that her mom and dad were not her birth parents. Due to reasons that she did not know, her birth parents had not been able to take care of her and when she was 2 years old, a couple had adopted her and raised her. Now, at 16 years of age, her biological parents wanted to make contact with her and establish a relationship. Tiffany did not know what to do. She loved her parents so much and appreciated what they had done for her. On the other hand, she was curious about her birth parents, felt abandoned, and wanted to meet them. She was afraid, however, of being hurt or of hurting her parents somehow..
