Bob likes to eat spaghetti. Every Friday he goes to an Italian restaurant and eats spaghetti for lunch.

Phyllis is a waitress at the Italian restaurant. Phyllis and Bob always talk and laugh. They are good friends.

After Bob eats, he pays for his lunch. Then he puts some money on the table. The money is for Phyllis. It is her tip.

One day Bob eats spaghetti at the restaurant. He pays for his lunch. Then he asks Phyllis, "Do you want a tip today? Or do you want half of my lottery ticket?"

"Half of your lottery ticket?" Phyllis asks.

"Yes," Bob says. "I have a lottery ticket. If I win the lottery, you get half of the money."

Phyllis laughs. "OK," she says. "I don't want a tip today. I want half of the lottery money!" She laughs again.
