

shop [ʃɒp]
bookshop ['bʊkʃɒp]
grocer's ['grəʊsəz]
buy [baɪ]

How many supermarkets are there in this town?

There are five supermarkets in this town.

Is a supermarket a small shop?

No, a supermarket isn't a small shop, but it's a big shop.

Where can we buy food?

We can buy food at the grocer's.

Where can we buy books?

We can buy books in a bookshop.

Which do you prefer: buying at the supermarket or buying in small shops?

I prefer buying in small shops.

Do you like buying new clothes?

Yes, I like buying new clothes.

Internet ['ɪntənət]
on the Internet
more than [mɔ: ðən]

Can you use the Internet?

Yes, I can use the Internet.

Do you often use the Internet at school?

Yes, I often use the Internet at school.

Are there a lot of films on the Internet?

Yes, there are a lot of films on the Internet.

Do you buy things on the Internet?

Yes, I buy things on the Internet.

What kind of things?

For example, CDs and clothes.

Do you buy more things on the Internet than in shops?

No, I don't buy more things on the Internet than in shops.

Does the teacher know more English words than the students?

Yes, the teacher knows more English words than the students.

market ['mɑ:kɪt]
greengrocer's ['grɪ:ngrəʊsəz]
sell [sel]

What do they sell at the grocer's?

They sell food at the grocer's.

Where do they sell fruit and vegetables?

They sell fruit and vegetables at the market or at the greengrocer's.