

Grammar

Homophones - words that are spelled differently but sound the same

For example, to, two, and too

Let's learn more:

mail - material sent or carried in the postal system male - like a boy or male plane - a tool for smoothing or shaping a wood surface plain - having no pattern or decoration base - the bottom or lowest part of something : the part on which something rests or is supported bass - having or indicating a low sound or range

Now your turn using simple words/ phrases.
