

Hypothetically Speaking

- If you had a million dollars, what would you do first?
- Suppose you were the Minister of the Environment. How would you spend your country's money?
- Imagine you lived on the moon. What would you do there?
- What if the world were going to end tomorrow because of a meteor? What would you eat for your last dinner?
- Imagine you were traveling to another planet and you could only bring one animal from earth. What animal would you bring?
- Imagine you were invisible for a day. Who would you play tricks on?
