

LOTTERY WINNER LOSES EVERYTHING!

Mario Costas was an ordinary office worker without much income until he won the lottery and became a very wealthy man. He immediately bought a house worth a million and a car that cost a fortune, and jewelry valued half a million. Unfortunately, the house was a waste of money. He owned it for six months, never lived there, then had to sell it for much less than he paid for it. Mario also wasted huge amounts of money on designer shoes and foreign holidays, and then within 18 months he was completely broke. Now he owes the bank over a thousand dollars and has credit card debts as well.
