

Read the story and find out what happens to Alvin and Sheryll as they walk on their way to school.

School is Fun

It is sunny Monday morning and the children are very happy. Alvin and Sheryll are going to school! They are walking along the road and they can see tall trees and beautiful flowers.

Alvin is holding his red bag while Sheryll is carrying her blue backpack. They have all the things they need for school.

They are excited to see and play with their friends and classmates again. They are delighted to learn new things from their teachers too. "School is fun!" said Alvin. "Yes, you're right." Sheryll answered with joy.

Questions:

1. Who are the children in the story? Can you tell something about them?
2. What do you feel when you go to school?
