

A Kind Woman Is a Winner

Hampton, VA., USA Twenty years ago. Mitzi Nichols, now 44, had a job at a hospital. Many sick people there needed a new kidney. "Someday I want to give away one of my kidneys," she decided then. In 2001. Nichols gave the gift of a kidney to Calvin Saunders. It was dangerous and difficult and she did not know the man, but she saved his life.

In 2004, Nichols won $500,000 in the Virginia lottery. She bought her first house and a truck for her husband. She gave her daughter money for school. The happy winner also gave money to Calvin Saunders. "She's so kind," he says. "First she gave me kidney, and now this." When you do good things for people, good things will happen to you." explains Nichols.

テキスト全文はレッスン受講時に担当講師よりお受け取りください。

You can see the whole lesson from your teacher, please ask them to send it to you before the class.